GeaCom, Inc. is pleased to welcome David Lagerstrom to the board of directors. Dave's extensive experience as the CEO of an international electronics producer is foundational to the expertise he brings to the board. Dave's management experience, values and healthcare life experience bring additional quality of insight to an already unique and strong board of directors.

About Dave

David Lagerstrom is the President and CEO of TURCK Inc., the North American headquarters of the TURCK company, whose global base is in Germany. TURCK is a leading manufacturer of industrial sensors, connectivity products and networking devices. Recognized with numerous national best workplace awards for its commitment to health and well-being, the company employs 1900 people and operates production facilities in Minnesota, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Saltillo, Mexico. Dave has been with TURCK for over 20 years, the past 13 years serving as the CEO. In 2015 Minnesota Business Magazine honored Dave as the Manufacturing Executive of the year. Dave volunteers time with two non-profit boards as a director, ODVA and the Health Partners Institute. A graduate of Iowa State University Dave has over 30 years of experience in the industrial controls market. When not working, he enjoys restoring and driving vintage sports cars.
