

Mat Johnson - CEO/Founder

Mat Johnson founded GeaCom, Inc. in 2007, and since the Company's formation, he has served as our President, Chief Executive Officer, and Director. Prior to founding our Company, he was the Chief Technology Officer and a member of the executive management team at Reshare Corporation, a company that has developed, markets, and sells a distribution relationship management (DRM) system deployed in over 12 major industries. In 1999, Mat also founded the Veldhiesen Group, Inc. and was its CEO. The Veldhiesen Group developed digital communication products that facilitated streaming video and podcasts as early as the year 2000. Mat has extensive hardware and engineering skills: some of which were formed while working as the technical head of Kawaguchi Robotics Division (U.S.) and he has worked on projects for Cargill, Honeywell, Pitney Bowes, Minneapolis Metro Transit Commission, McWhorter, Wagner Industrial Products, and others.